Welcome, brave souls, to the Monster Museum! On your left, see the Zombie do his walk. Look out for the mummy (she's snapped and come unwrapped). Frankenstein's grumpy—they gave him a bride, but never a name. Come in, if you dare, and meet all the slimy, screaming, slithery friends and fiends. They're just dying to show you a good time! Gris Grimly's colorful caricatures perfectly complement the playful beat of Marilyn Singer's poems to create a ghastly good Halloween read.
