More Fun than Fun is Professor F. Albert Cotton's autobiography, completed before his death in February 2007. Providing a personal, in-depth look at his life, both personal and professional, this book includes stories that explain the inspiration for his love of science and teaching. From one of the most famous inorganic chemists of our time, and a teacher to thousands of students, this book gives us a final look at the intimate details of Professor Cotton's life and his fascination with knowledge.
