Ambitious, exotic, and a classic book club read, 'The Piano Teacher' is a combination of 'Tenko' meets 'The Remains of the Day'. Sometimes the end of a love affair is only the beginning! In 1942, Will Truesdale, an Englishman newly arrived in Hong Kong, falls headlong into a passionate relationship with Trudy Liang, a beautiful Eurasian socialite. But their love affair is soon threatened by the invasion of the Japanese, with terrible consequences for both of them, and for members of their fragile community who will betray each other in the darkest days of the war. Ten years later, Claire Pendleton lands in Hong Kong and is hired by the wealthy Chen family as their daughter's piano teacher. A provincial English newlywed, Claire is seduced by the colony's heady social life. She soon begins an affair! only to discover that her lover's enigmatic demeanour hides a devastating past. As the threads of this compelling and engrossing novel intertwine and converge, a landscape of impossible choices emerges -- between love and safety, courage and survival, the present and above all, the past.

《鋼琴教師的情人》試讀本的封底有著一句斗大的標語寫著：「張愛玲創造了傾城之戀，李倫京卻毀滅了它！」閱讀的過程中，這句話不斷縈繞在我的腦海，揮之不去。究竟是什麼樣的作品膽敢跟張愛玲（1920-1995）膾炙人口的經典之作相提並論？我所好奇的不只於此，還有這兩部著作到底...

必须要承认，我在拿到这本书的时候，港版的封面我实在是不喜欢。甚至觉得有些低俗。可是，就是在这种情绪下，我开始了一页一行的阅读。
那旧时代的香港是那么的吸引我，那女人的对生命的渴望，激情的渴望，这个无法掌握的男人的渴望，以及他背后的秘密的渴望，深深的把我套牢...
