Oh, no! Kai-Lan and her friends are building a toy car they can all ride in--but HoHo can't wait until it's finished! He tries to ride in the car before it's ready and ends up breaking it. Now he has to wait even longer while they put the broken pieces back together. But Kai-Lan shows him that if you do something you like while you're waiting, the time goes by much faster. This sweet story teaches a valuable lesson to preschool children! Book contains rebus icons throughout.
