

Song without Music

Song without Music 下载链接1

著者:Edited by Stephen C. Soong

出版者:Renditions Press

出版时间:1980-01-01

装帧:Hardcover

isbn:9789622012066

'Tz'u' [Ci] means 'song words' in Chinese. The genre originated as lyrics written to music, sung and enjoyed by the common people. Its popular appeal continued after its adoption by the literati. Tz'u poetry reached its peak in the Song dynasty (AD 10th to 12th century) and still stands as one of the major achievements of China's poetic tradition.

Comprising nine critical essays and translations of eight representative poets, this volume presents a comprehensive survey of the history of the genre as well as the achievements of individual writers. Contributors to this volume include many leading scholars of classical Chinese literature in the West and in China.

'In this very attractive anthology, editor Soong has brought together poems and essays that gracefully introduce the reader to a major genre of Chinese poetry.'

—A.L.A. Booklist

作者介绍:

目录:

Song without Music\_下载链接1

标签

without

Song

Music

评论

学习繁体字佳品..只不过选的词婉约的快看崩溃了.....

-----
Song without Music\_下载链接1

书评

-----
Song without Music\_下载链接1