Ita (TM)s Nina Landrya (TM)s birthday, and shea (TM)s supposed to have her kids ready to leave in a few hours for a Christmas holiday in Florida with her new boyfriend, but her fifteen-year-old daughter Charlie spent the night at a frienda (TM)s and hasna (TM)t come home yet. Not by ten a.m., not by eleven. Nina is getting angry - they have a plane to catch, and Charlie hasna (TM)t even bothered to pack. As time passes, though slower and slower by the minute, Nina becomes uneasy. Her anger gives way to worry, and that worry quickly builds into panic. By one p.m., shea (TM)s wondering, has Charlie run away, or has something far worse happened? And why wona (TM)t anyone - not the cops, not Charliea (TM)s friends, not Charliea (TM)s father - take her disappearance seriously? As day turns to night on their home of Sandling Island sixty miles from London, and a series of ominous secrets leads Nina from sickening suspicion to deadly certainty, the question becomes less whether she and her daughter will leave the island in time and more whether theya (TM)ll ever leave it again.
