Learning is always in fashion, and now you can teach your children the words for different articles of clothing in English and Spanish. This dual language learning book features a diverse cast of boys and girls telling about the clothes they wear for their favorite activities. Preschoolers will be thoroughly engaged by the bright and colorful illustrations. To reinforce the learning, there's an interactive exercise that prompts children to identify the clothes they wear. A pronunciation guide at the back of the book helps with vocabulary instruction. Written by Gladys Rosa-Mendoza, edited by Carolina Cifuentes, and illustrated by Mary Collier.
