This guide is big and beautiful, with a stunning landscape format, amazing photographs, and an astounding 500 ideas on how to make a home absolutely fabulous. It's the follow-up to the highly popular "Country Living 750" series, with the same superbly organized and easy-to-follow numbered tips--a layout readers absolutely love. Every page is an inspiration, eliminating the intimidation homeowners often feel when they gaze at an empty (or dull) room, and giving them confidence in their own decorating skills. Plus, "Country Living" is a recognized and trusted brand, the magazine that people go to for the best in comfortable, functional style. As home decorators pore through the advice on making color choices, working with textures and patterns, organizing collectibles, turning found objects into functional or fanciful accessories, they'll begin to see that the process of creating the perfect living space is an exciting adventure. And since the book is arranged to go room by room--from bedrooms to laundry rooms--they'll be able to concentrate on whatever space they're working on at the moment and come up with imaginative ways to renew that area. As a bonus, there's a special chapter on seasonal decorating to help make happy holidays.
