When Lieutenant Commander Heidi Kraft's twin son and daughter were fifteen months old, she was deployed to Iraq. A clinical psychologist in the US Navy, Kraft had the job of uncovering the wounds of war that a surgeon would never see. She put away thoughts of her children back home, acclimated to the sound of incoming rockets, and learned how to listen to the most traumatic stories a war zone has to offer. One of the toughest lessons of her deployment was perfectly articulated by the TV show M*A*S*H: 'There are two rules of war. Rule number one is that young men die. Rule number two is that doctors can't change rule number one.' Some marines, Kraft realized, and even some of their doctors, would be damaged by war in ways that she couldn't repair. And sometimes people were repaired in ways she never expected. RULE NUMBER TWO is a powerful firsthand account of providing comfort amid the chaos of war, and of what it takes to endure.

三星半。比较私人的回忆录。其中有很感人的故事，但大部分是病人自己的。算是easy read，作者的文字很流畅。从一个母亲和女性的角度出发，与以往看到的tough marine感觉都不同。虽然作者一再强调Marine和Navy Corpsman之间的情感，但总觉得比较空。也许是因为作者是有选择性的在讲述。
