Elegant and decadently sensual, Noelle Mack's novel Three was hailed as "erotica at its best." Handsome, virile Lord Edward was a notorious rake even before he met the beautiful, deliciously decadent Lady Fiona in Three. Now in Lord Edward's Story, he's back and ready to give his women all they desire... The Man Who Loved Women...And The Women Who Loved Him Lord Edward Delamar knows the intimate desires of the most sensual and daring women in London--and his prowess in the bedroom is legendary. Yet he is a man of honor, handsome and discreet, and their secrets are safe with him. But their hearts are not. An invitation from Lord Delamar means only one thing: they must surrender to a masterful lover like no other--and experience pleasure that goes beyond their wildest dreams. His women always beg for more--and more... Praise for Noelle Mack and her novels... "Hot sex...sizzling and innovative." -- Romantic Times on Juicy, a Top Pick! 4 /12 star review "Incredibly sensual."- Romantic Times "Memorable...romantically satisfying." -- Romantic Times, four star review "A truly sensual story that will titillate and captivate readers." - Romantic Times, four-star review "The queen of seduction meets the king of rakes. Sensual, sexual, stupendous. Three is a fabulous erotica romance." --Harriet Klausner Reviews Noelle Mack is a designer for a major California entertainment company. Three was her first erotic novel, followed by Red Velvet, and Juicy, and novellas in Sexy Beast and Sexy Beast II, and The Harem. Her tale of lust and love in Venice, Nights in Black Satin, began a new series that will move to London for the upcoming Nights in Black Leather and Paris for Nights in Black Lace. She lives in Los Angeles.
