If you could marry into any family, which would you choose? Who talks about sex more: men or women? Is it harder to be a pitcher or a running back? Name the best television theme song of all time. Who would win in a war: Texas or California? These are just a few of the entertaining, provocative, endlessly debate-worthy questions in "Barguments." Spanning the full spectrum of life's crucial topics -- sports, television, food, music, sex, and, of course, drink -- "Barguments" is the perfect addition to anywhere friends, colleagues, or strangers gather with a little time and plenty of opinions to share.
