This book helps readers to make sense of the various written and Web-based resources that are available to improve the quality of proposals and find successful funding. The chapters cover origins and early development of an idea, drawing up a proposal, finding a funding source, submitting a proposal, evaluation of a project, grant administration, and basic resources. This book is divided into two parts: A Process for Developing of Ideas and Basic Resources. In the first part, there are sections on origins and early developments of an idea, drawing up a proposal, finding a source of support, submission of a proposal, grant administration, and evaluation. In section two, online and print sources are included, as well as samples of forms and required information.
