A compulsively readable collection of women's tell-all diaries, revealing what a day is like in hundreds of jobs, from glamorous perks to bosses from hell. What's it really like to own the company...work from home...occupy cubicle-land? On March 27, 2007, over 500 women kept a diary of their workday--including drama and laugh-out-loud moments--for Water Cooler Diaries . Featuring 35 full-day accounts and hundreds of highlights, you'll go behind the scenes with a hot new fashion designer, a McDonald's manager, a trauma surgeon, a mechanic, a life coach, a boxing promoter. More well-known contributors include actress Angie Everhart, celebrity chef Sara Moulton, race-car driver Sara Fisher, and "Go Fug Yourself" blogger Heather Cocks, all inviting us to work a day in their shoes.
