This book collects over 300 recipes from one of the bet-loved cooks, household helper and broadcaster ever to grace the Midwest's airwaves. Well tested over 50 years by Joyce Lamont's vast and devoted audiences, all these recipes are characteristically simple, delicious, family-friendly, reliable, almost the definition of comfort food. This cookbook follows the calendar, directing readers to the freshest ingredients available throughout the year and making the most of these in recipes that celebrate the seasons. It also includes Joyce Lamont reminiscences of radio personalities and on-air antics , as well as the first ever collection of her unbeatable household hints.
