This is Dr Grordbort's thirty-two-page catalogue that reveals a world where chivalry is not dead, advertising is beautiful, and ray guns look too pretty to be lethal.

Written and illustrated by Weta Workshop conceptual designer Greg Broadmore, the directory showcases dozens of arcane inventions, contraptions and weaponry.

The stars of the show are, of course, Dr. Grordborts Infallible Aether Oscillators, but you will also find the shiniest new bifurnilizers, metal man servants and automated travel loungers.

Also included for your entertainment and scientific education is a compartmentalised picture story (some call them comics) of the world famous naturalist, Lord Cockswain.
