Last Cow Doctor

John McCormack

Tens of thousands of readers have fallen in love with Dr. John McCormack's series of books about the farmers, cattlemen, and moonshiners of Choctaw County, Alabama. From late-night cow deliveries to visits to the town barbershop to catch up on the latest gossip, The Last Cow Doctor is the final installment in this much-loved series, following Fields and Pastures New, A Friend of the Flock, and The Hero of the Herd. McCormack brilliantly captures the spirit of living on the land, relying on our furry two- and fourfooted critters for a livelihood, and, foremost, the time-tested truths about the importance of friends, neighbors, and family.

"McCormack beguilingly captures the laughter and tears of the veterinary scene. A heartwarming read for the animal lover." -James Heriot

Dr. John McCormack is a retired professor of veterinary medicine at the University of Georgia. A native of Tennessee, he received his D.V.M. degree from Auburn University and practiced animal medicine in Choctaw County, Alabama, for more than ten years. He lives in Athens and Lake Oconee, Georgia.
