PRAISE FOR WILL DURST "An equal opportunity offender with a restless mind and delicious sense of language." -- Los Angeles Times "Will Durst is the natural successor to Mort Sahl." - New York Post "A modern day Will Rogers." -- Boston Globe "A new wave hysterical hybrid of Hunter S. Thompson and Charles Osgood." -- Chicago Tribune "A great political satirist! One of the funniest guys around!" -- Fox News Radio "So good it's scary." -- San Francisco Chronicle Red versus Blue. Left versus Right. Sun-dried tomato basil reduction versus ketchup. Will Durst is fed up with America's political extremes. Outraged and outrageous, he's fired up and ready to joke about it. In The All-American Sport of Bipartisan Bashing, Durst hits both sides of the aisle with gloves packed full of common sense. This collection of humorous essays swings from the purple center and lands `em where it hurts the funniest. About the Author Will Durst is a former Margarine smuggler from Wisconsin who has written for the New York Times, Esquire, George, the San Francisco Chronicle and many other periodicals. He lives in San Francisco.
