This is the next brilliant adventure in the hugely successful series. Katie Morag has to go to ballet class. She has to wear a frilly frou-frou skirt and pink ballet pumps, instead of her favourite wellies Katie Morag is not impressed. She has better things to do on a Saturday morning than go to dancing class. But the Grandmothers have decided that she must go to ballet. There's nothing she can do.... Or is there? The perfect story for feisty little girls everywhere -- especially the ones that don't like ballet
