This title offers a transformation to the bland sameness of our everyday items by remaking, restyling and reusing. Using easy craft techniques - such as embroidery, painting, stamping and stencilling - the book delivers 40 projects for transforming plain dishes, linens, storage containers, mirrors and much more. There are simple step-by-steps, designs to trace or photocopy and beautiful colour photographs to accompany each piece. With sophisticated, high-end design values, the book is as lovely to look at as it is to use and will encourage even beginning crafters to take their everyday home items from ordinary to extraordinary.Sonia Lucano studied at France's National School of Decorative Arts. Today she works in fashion and design. Fred Lucano is a commercial photographer specialising in fashion and home decor. They live in Paris.
