As a serving lawyer for the US Army in Iraq, Vivian Gembara counsels soldiers, investigates them, and prosecutes when necessary. When an Iraqi teenager's body is found floating in the Tigris River and US soldiers are believed to have been involved in the death, she knows she has a case on her hands - but does not know how much this case will reveal about the US Army's conduct in times of war. Both as legal thriller and a searing account of the savagery that occurs when 'the fight' is placed above all else, this chronicles the pursuit of military justice and cover-up in unflinching prose and is a necessary book for anyone concerned with today's world.
