Classic Americana from the award-winning author and illustrator of The Milkman. Farm cow waking. Tardy MOO!

Bensons rising. Much to do . . .

Finally finished. Loud “Hurray!”

Bensons set for Market Day. When the Benson family oversleeps, there’s so much to do to get ready for market, from picking shiny red apples to packing up the truck. But in their hurry, do they remember to feed the cow? Or close the farm gate? One hungry, lovable cow is about to make a day at the farmer’s market a lot more exciting! From the celebrated author/illustrator team behind The Milkman , here’s another classically illustrated, pitchperfect read-aloud packed with small-town appeal.
