Charles Fuge has done it again! The celebrated author and illustrator ("I Know a Rhino," "Sometimes I Like to Curl Up in a Ball," and many others) invites kids on an imaginative journey with a little boy and some friendly animals. The trip's full of rhythm, rhyme, and color--perfect for reading aloud and gazing at again and again. Every page is bright with different hues, and each almost-musical refrain introduces a different animal, followed by the boy imitating that particular creature. He scurries like the mouse ("'skittle, skittle, skuttle'"); hurries like the ladybug ("'beetle, battle, buttle'"); and creeps like the anteater ("'prod, snuffle, poke'"). Children will happily chime in, get moving, and start thinking about what other animals do too. A Main Selection of the Children's Book of the Month Club.
