Rahzel's father kicked her out to test her magic abilities in the real world, but now he's bringing her - and the friends she's picked up along the way - back home to protect her from his brother Kiara's mysterious plans. Alzeid has been searching for the woman who killed his father - the man he's a clone of - but now his dangerously simpleminded clone brother, who Kiara has brought up to be a psychopathic killer, has arrived for a showdown. As her friend Alzeid battles for his life, Rahzel wonders what sinister effects Kiara's machinations have had on her body.
