Wholphin No. 7 is filled with unique and ponderable films designed to make viewers feel the way McSweeney's felt after learning that dolphins and whales sometimes, you know, do it. The issue includes short films, instructional videos, foreign sitcoms, scientific discoveries, animated shorts, and other cinema hybrids that deserve to be seen on very expensive televisions. The extensive liner notes include interviews with various filmmakers and explanatory information as to where each film came from and why it was chosen.
