Akabane confesses his feelings to the girl he likes only to be rejected for some jerk named Moriya. Enraged, Akabane collides with his arch-nemesis in the school hallway. And while his rage is enough to set some sparks flying, Akabane is just as shocked as Moriya when the school floor opens up and swallows them whole! Transported to a world that resembles a role-playing game, the boys are confronted by Marion, a scantily-clad lady warrior, battling a lizard creature. And according to her, the only way they can get out of their present tight situation is by exchanging bodily fluids! Will Akabane choose certain death over kissing Moriya?
