Supported by relevant theory, research, policy, and philosophy, this second edition of Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing: The Craft of Caring provides a comprehensive overview of the practice of psychiatric and mental health nursing, The book is underpinned by the concept of "the craft of caring," where the basis of good nursing practice is considered to be a combination of both art and science, and which encourages nurses to take a holistic approach to the practice of psychiatric and mental health nursing. Reflecting current developments in nursing practice and the understanding of mental health disorders, this edition includes twelve additional chapters, giving more emphasis to specific groups such as children and young people, women, older people, asylum seekers, and refugees. The book also examines specialist services, such as psychiatric liaison and spiritual care, and further emphasis is given to psychiatric diagnosis and mental health legislation in relation to human rights. This is an essential text for all psychiatric and mental health nurses at the diploma and degree level, as well as qualified mental health nurses seeking to update their knowledge. It will also be a useful reference for professionals in other disciplines such as social work, medicine, and psychology.
