A little boy finds a rubber duck and uses him as a hat, a straw, a nose. But how does the duck use the little boy? By turning the book over, readers find the same story told from the duck's point of view. Witty line drawings and text by the gifted Argentine author/illustrator Isol remind even the youngest child that there are always two points of view, and more than one way to be. This charming, innovative book in the form of an accordion is beautifully packaged in a slipcase.

上图最美书展立读,折叠起来的长拉页画面一样,正面故事是男孩说"哦也我找了一只小黄鸭,好有用",反面故事是鸭子说"哦也我捡到了一个小男孩,好有用"
