Frederick C. Klein and Mark Anderson have teamed up again to create a perfect vehicle to introduce young fans to the history and celebrated legends of the Detroit Tigers. Each letter of the alphabet is designated to at least one Tigers immortal, which is characterized by a brilliant illustration, a witty poem, and a brief summary of his place in baseball history. The Detroit Tigers baseball program has certainly produced its share of such personalities. Its annals are studded with memorable names such as Ernie Harwell, "Hammerin' Hank" Greenberg, George "Sparky" Anderson, Ty Cobb, Bill Freehan, Harry Heilmann, Al Kaline, Mickey Lolich, Magglio Ordonez, George Quellich, and many others. The book is a wonderful tool for young readers and an ideal way for different generations of Tigers fans to share their passion.
