Six-year-old Tiffany 'Gia, daughter of Earth's last were-cheetah and an alien, nano-machine-enchanted prince, is ready to start her first day - of high school, that is. She and her bestest buddy Charlotte, a full-grown harpy with the mind of a young teen, are going to APS-001, where they and other "special" students will receive an education like no other on Earth But will they survive their homeroom teacher's project to clone herself a husband?
