Deputy Dorkface returns in this new adventure. The Deputy now lives in Sugaropolis, the sweetest town on earth, where all of the children love candy, cakes and desserts of all types. When the children suddenly become too tired to do anything, Deputy Dorkface decides a major change is necessary. When the town's children learn they cannot have desserts, they band together to get their favorite treats and desserts back. Will the children win? Or will the citizens of Sugaropolis agree to a balanced diet? This wonderfully illustrated book will appeal to anyone with a sweet tooth.
