When international model, Elle Mcpherson turned 40, the world media asked her, "So what is it like?"

"It's not scary at all," Elle said. "I feel better than I've ever felt. I don't think turning forty these days has the same meaning that it did generations ago.

In fact it is a magnificent opportunity to take life by the horns and be fabulous--the rehearsals are over and it's time for the main act."
