To get to the truth, you have to strip away all the layers. FBI agent Eve Morgan will stop at nothing to find her father's killer and avenge his death, even posing as a stripper and getting suspended from her job. Her plans are blown all to hell when bullets fly, and she's rescued by a man who may or may not be on the right side of the law. Ex-Marine Nick Shaffer knows Eve is trouble the second he lays eyes on her leather-clad body, but he's been hired to protect her. Nothing will get in his way. Not her sultry looks, his overactive hormones-or the nightmarish guilt from his last mission, in which an innocent man died. As they get closer to the truth, the danger escalates, and so does the sexual tension. But the secrets they keep from each other could be just as deadly as the killer they hunt. Warning: This title contains explicit sex, graphic language, and violence.
