Dynamic and energetic, groundbreaking street artist WK Interact brings his iconic style to the indoors. "36 Chambers", the title of the series is inspired by the classic martial arts movie "Enter the 36 Chambers of Shaolin", the story of which inspired the debut album by Wu-Tang Clan. Drago plans 36 titles in the series the creative brief of which is that artists may only use black and white and a single colour of their choice. Born in France, WK Interact has lived and breathed New York City for the last 20 years, where the urban landscape has become the perfect backdrop for his cutting-edge work - highly energetic and dynamic images of figures running, jumping, and moving through the urban environment. This visually stunning volume showcases WK Interact's groundbreaking work in which he brings his iconic street art to the indoors, allowing him to add levels of complexity and energy never before seen.
