Cole Richards has been training in karate for four years. He's on the brink of advancing to his next belt level. But as he prepares for his test, new challenges come his way. First, his dojo announces a "create-your-own kata" contest to take place the same day as his belt test. Now he's torn between practicing for the test and making up a series of moves that will knock his senseis socks off. But before he even begins with either challenge, he lands in trouble with a group of local teens - and then with his best friends, too! How will Cole handle the mounting pressure? This latest installment in Matt Christopher's best-selling sport series of novels explores the exciting world of martial arts. With true-to-life characters, plenty of karate action, and realistic conflicts, it's sure to fly off the shelves.
