Praise for Olive Etchells: “The most unnerving crimes of violence are the ones that tear apart small, tightly knit communities . . . and Etchells demonstrates this awful process of disintegration.” — The New York Times Book Review When a body is found at the crossroads of a small village, DCI Channon must deal with the ramifications of the incident for the town and its residents—making the murder at the crossroads one of his most difficult cases yet. Olive Etchells was born in Lancashire, England. She has been writing for many years and is best known for her Jericho Rose Lancashire sagas.
