This title is suitable for children of ages 3 to 5 years. When Princess Prissypants turns her kingdom into a pink paradise, not everything works out quite the way she planned - traffic becomes a mess, a marching band ends up in the river, and she steps on her beloved cat before realising everything was lovely as it was before. Written in rhyming verse that is fun to read aloud, this tale shows a relatable little girl who is independent, curious, courageous, and embracing of her inner princess. Using colourful illustrations to exemplify the beauty of diversity, this picture book also shows how to make the world a wonderful place.
