Ever really felt like killing someone? London crime novelist Matt Wells has. Dumped by his agent, his publisher and his wife, he has more revenge fantasies than most, but when Matt is contacted by a serial killer called the 'White Devil', he is horrified to discover that this evil force knows everything about him, his family, friends - and his enemies. Then the slaughter begins and Matt's idle fantasies are made all too real. If Matt can't stop the White Devil in time, all those people Matt really hates are about to meet a chilling fate...
