Time to fly with your angel. A little girl hears these words and knows it is time for sleep. As her eyes close, she whispers in the darkness? Angels, angels, all around. Angels, angels, come surround. Hold my hand throughout the night. Guide me from the dark to light. When a watchful angel appears by her bedside, the child marvels at the angel's beautiful wings and describes all the things she would do if she could fly. A dreamland adventure, this comforting book features angels from many cultures.
