Pageant winner, homecoming queen -- Lara had the world at her feet. Until she got fat. Despite a strict diet and workout schedule, Lara is soon a nameless, faceless, 200-pound plus teenage blimp. She's desperate to get her to-die-for body back -- and to find an explanation for her mysterious weight gain. When she's diagnosed with a mysterious metabolic disorder with no known cure, Lara is forced to face the awful truth: She may have to spend the rest of her life trapped in a fat suit. Who will stay by her side? Her image-conscious family? Her shallow friends? Her handsome boyfriend? Or will she be left alone in the land of the fat girls?
