In this glorious tribute to one of nature's noblest creatures, Newbery Medalist Jean Craighead George tracks the development of three wolf cubs over the course of a year. As we see Boulder, Scree, and Talus learn to howl, talk, play, and begin to fend for themselves in the challenging alpine tundra, we are also reminded of the changes in nature in the lower 48 states. A rare and enchanting glimpse of one of the world's most misunderstood creatures.
