Isch. Surely we must include the slave to amorous affection. 11] Your woeful lover 12] is incapable of being taught attention to anything beyond one single object. 13] No light task, I take it, to discover any hope or occupation sweeter to him than that which now employs him, his care for his beloved, nor, when the call for action comes, 14] will it be easy to invent worse punishment than that he now endures in separation from the object of his passion.
