If I had served myself, with half the zeal that I have served the world, I should not now be thus forsaken --I have sacrificed reputation, happiness--every thing, to the love of frolic--All frolic will soon be at an end with me--I am dying--and I shall die unlamented by any human being. --If I were to live my life over again, what a different life it should be --What a different person I would be --But it is all over now--I am dying.
