The author was inspired to write this book by her son. After receiving a puppy the author realized how few books are available that teach preschoolers about potty training - let alone how to become involved in basic puppy training. Peyton Wolfe teaches young children how to begin developing a positive bond with the new puppy, while at the same time learning self-awareness of their own responsibilities. "NOT IN THE HOUSE " is a precious story that helps young children through their potty training and the new puppy through house breaking. The adorable illustrations will captivate the imagination, while the catchy "Potty Song" helps guide them through one of the many milestones of growing up. WE DID IT
