Along a desolate stretch of Route 539 in a sheltered area of the New Jersey Pine Barrens sits an enigmatic landmark; A timeworn rock that has been painted over anonymously for decades. Who has been painting this rock, and why? Attempts to unmask the Picasso of the Pines have proven inconclusive at best. But the intrigue surrounding this myth-shrouded rock is about to be shattered. Teens Kelly and Geoffrey Martin and their faithful fellow explorer, Danny Windsor, now find themselves-in this, their third summer installment of New Jersey shore adventure-at the heart of a forty-year-old mystery and in the middle of a new hotbed of debate that leads them to unlock the secret behind the Painted Rock.
