On a frontier overrun by men who'd kill you as soon as look at you, Ben Moon was a legend, one of the most feared gunfighters who ever drew breath. But the west had changed. And so had Ben Moon. Too many years of drinking and shooting and killing had done something bad to his soul. Then, one freezing morning in 1882, he finds salvation in a sinner named Jane. Once, he'd actually thought about marrying her. Now she is dying and all she wants is to see the child she'd given up at birth. Because he still has his pride and honor, Ben rides out to look for Jane's little girl. He goes back out among the men with hard eyes and smoking guns who wanted to kill the infamous Ben Moon...and probably will.
