0in 0in 0pt">They evolved long before the dinosaurs and outnumber humans by more than a million to one. What are they? Insects! Popular puzzlemaster Helene Hovanac, with Kate Ritchey, is here to present a huge amount of information about these tiny creatures. Kids will love learning some of the coolest facts ever about everything from bees and beetles to bloodsuckers and butterflies. Even better, young entomologists also get to flex their brain muscles as they solve puzzles to uncover even more creepy-crawly tidbits. They'll fill in blanks and grids, create new words from existing ones, crack codes, answer trivia questions, and more—and every time they come up with the right answer, they'll actually uncover a new fact!
