Summer 2008 has arrived in Stockholm as young people from around the world gather there for a meeting of Youth for Peace, hoping to find solutions to the conflicts that divide them. Ghada Shafi from Palestine, Binyamin Dayan from Israel, and Mariela Fuentes, a child of the violence that wracked Nicaragua, have assumed leadership roles at the YFP meeting. Negotiations that cross language barriers and cultural differences are difficult enough; but when a participant from Syria dies mysteriously, the meeting is engulfed in distrust and fear. Magnus Torval, a Swedish detective who is also a famous international power lifter, investigates the mysterious death and associated events that threaten the YFP participants. He must work closely with Mariela Fuentes, as the two of them confront not only difficult developments in the volatile Swedish immigrant community, but also their own past disappointments and mutual attraction. With each passing day, Mariela, Magnus, Ghada and Binyamin see the stakes of failure get larger. They are running out of time to find out who is behind the rapidly growing danger.
