In the land of the otters, Flibberty lay in his secret place, watching the moon rise and daydreaming instead of catching fish. So the King of the River sets him a seemingly impossible task: to find and serve him a great fish on a silver dish before daybreak. With the help of his friend the heron, Flibberty sets off downriver--far, far away from home. But will he ever fulfill the King's demands? Tudor Humphries's breathtaking artwork captures the young otter's unforgettable journey--the magical night, deep blue waters, and new day, dawning bright.
