Ben Johnson, in Asheville, North Carolina, becomes enamored by DC, a charismatic drifter with a dark world vision, and he is forced to confront DC's rejection of culture and the art it produces. Through Ben's private journal entries, learn about his struggle to overcome DC's destructive cynicism and his pursuit of an artistic vision. Will Ben follow his own artistic calling, or will he adopt DC's anti-social lifestyle? Hang on as these two personalities collide and events spiral out of control.
