This book, a collection of essays from scholars across disciplines, explores leadership of discovery, probing the guided and collaborative exploration and interpretation of the experience of our inner thoughts and feelings, and of our external worlds. By approaching discovery as the product of interaction and collaboration the very idea of leadership is expanded. The book covers a wide range of topics: from the discovery of the new world from Christopher Columbus to the NASA Space Program. Contributors include astronomers, historians, psychologists, theologians, and one NASA astronaut.
